Beaverhill Bird Observatory's Geoff Holroyd Young Ornithologists' Workshop: a Natural History Camp August 4-10, 2019

- Are you 15-18 years old and interested in birds and nature?
- Would you like to experience what it is like to be a field biologist while learning to identify, sex, age and band birds and get High School CREDITS?
- Would you like to experience living in a camp setting with other teens, learning and going on field trips? This is a FREE workshop to successful applicants (you must cover transportation costs to BBO).

Location: Beaverhill Bird Observatory (BBO) near Tofield, Alberta Check out www.beaverhillbirds.com for information and the application form to attend this workshop. Contact: helentrefry@gmail.com for more information.

